

6 Tips to Help Your Child's Language Development

Tip #1

Tell your child what will happen next, so he/she will know what to expect.

Visual cues such as gestures, pictures and/or related items will help your child's comprehension.

Tip #2

Show your child what to do and help them do a sequence of actions in daily life, so he/she will become able to do it independently.

1. Predictions

3. Arriving at school

2. Preparations

Tip #3

Talk to your child how he/she feels when he/she cannot verbalize his/her feeling especially when he/she gets upset.

An illustration of a parent with short dark hair, wearing a blue long-sleeved shirt and light-colored pants, kneeling on one knee. The parent is looking towards a young child who is crying. The child has dark hair, is wearing a red shirt and green shorts, and has their hands near their mouth as if crying. Blue teardrops are shown around the child's face. A speech bubble above the parent contains the text "You don't want to go home yet." The word "WAHHHHHHH!" is written in a curved path above the child's head.

You don't want to go home yet.

WAHHHHHHH!

Tip #4

When your child points to something, tell him/her what it is.

Tip #5

Teach your child to do chores. There are so many opportunities to help him/her develop his/her language while he/she does chores with you.

Tip #6

Take turns chatting back and forth with your child using eye contact, facial expressions, gestures, and words.

1. Listen to what your child is saying, then imitate his/her sounds.

2. Help your child take turns in conversation. Use non-verbal cues such as facial expressions, gestures, pictures, items along with words to help him/her enjoy the conversation.

3. Help your child to make a guess.
